

On the Road™

March 2012

Solutions™

We're all in this together™

Colas Solutions Launches Redesigned Website

Colas Solutions, Inc. (CSI) is proud to announce that it recently launched a completely redesigned website. It is more colorful, more informative and hopefully easier to navigate. This new site features a rotating showcase of CSI products on the HOME page using the color scheme and nature pictures from each product's brochure. Each brochure is accessible either by clicking on it as it cycles through on the HOME page or by clicking on the PRODUCTS tab which has a complete listing of all our products with links to each brochure.

The SOLUTIONS tab takes you to various Distresses, such as cracking, potholes, and surface deformation and for each Distress there is a list of Colas Solutions' products to address that distress. The same information can also be accessed by clicking on the photos of the various distresses on the HOME page.

Clicking the PRESERVATION tab takes you to the website of Colas Pavement Preservation, which is currently under construction, but which already has links to the various Colas pavement preservation companies.

The INNOVATION tab has all new material with pages on Global Innovation, Industry Leadership, Laboratory Services and Training and Education. The RESPONSIBILITY tab, which discusses our approach to responsible development, is also all new.

Some additional new features include links to our affiliates with each company's logo, and pages on white papers, calculators and careers. Please visit the site at www.colassolutions.com

